

Membership at Alnarp's Farm

Why become a member of Alnarp's Farm?

Alnarp's Farm is a student-driven agroecological farm with the aims to provide healthy food to the local community, give students the opportunity to learn about running a small-scale farm, and educate widely about sustainable food systems. We believe in a food system where producer and consumer are more closely connected so that we can build a system to fit the needs of people and the planet. We believe that it is urgent to produce food in a way that does not harm our environment and that we educate those around us about sustainable production methods. By becoming a member of Alnarp's Farm, you will be able to participate in and contribute towards building a more socially and environmentally sustainable food system. We encourage anyone with an interest in the farm to become a member, whether you are a student or staff member at SLU, like to buy our tasty veggies, or just want to support the project and its aims.
